PRO-LIQUID

Pro-Liquid is a ready-to-use liquid inoculant that contains live nitrogen-fixing bacteria for the inoculation of soybeans. This product contains:

(Bradyrhizobium japonicum)

Minimum Guarantee: 2 Billion (2×10^9) infective viable cells per gram.

Directions for use and storage:

- Shake product well before use.
- Application Rates: Apply 2.10 fl oz of inoculant per 50 pounds of soybean seed.
- Directions for Continuous Application: (0.80 gallon size only), Remove bag from box, attach applicator kit and tubing, then hang bag. See instructions inside packaging for further information. Do not exceed 24 hours without reinoculating.
- Directions for Planter Box Application: Using the supplied measuring cup, measure the appropriate amount of Pro-Liquid Inoculant for the quantity of seed to be inoculated. Pour the inoculant over the seeds and stir until they are uniformly covered. For optimal performance plant immediately. Do not exceed 24 hours without reinoculating.
- Storage: Pro-Liquid contains live nitrogen-fixing bacteria. It is important to store in a cool place, between 40° - 77° F (4° -25° C) out of direct sunlight or conditions where temperatures would increase significantly. DO NOT ALLOW TO FREEZE.

This is a dated product that must be used prior to expiration date on the box label.
- Adverse Conditions: For improved nodulation on soybeans in soils where soybeans have not been planted within the past 3 years or longer, soybean growers often double the application rate. The double application rate is also used if there are adverse conditions, such as sustained high temperature, lack of moisture, or extremely windy conditions.

NOTICE - READ CAREFULLY CONDITIONS OF SALE AND LIMITED WARRANTY STATEMENT

Inoculation or treatment of highly mechanically damaged seed, or seed of known low vigor and poor quality, may result in reduced germination and/or reduction of seed and seeding vigor.
